

TROJAN

1964 — Members of a class, like many before them, step out into the world, each taking with him enthusiasm, knowledge, and a little part of all the other members. This marks an end for them and a beginning. As they venture out, they find it difficult to leave behind their memories. With this in mind . . .

Grace Fair

Spirit of Dedication

We recognize your constant devotion to Troy High for the past fifteen years . . . and therefore wish to dedicate this 1964 TROJAN to you . . .

Margaret Englehart . . . for changing the typewriter ribbons when we didn't want to get our fingers dirty, sticking it out through those cold, cold football games, and helping us get that ever-so-important part time job.

Grace Fair . . . for permeating the upstairs hall with aromas of cakes and cookies, reminding us of the F.H.A. cupcake sales, and helping us find the way on the road to domesticity.

Thelma Birt . . . for helping us pick up that infuriating dropped stitch, finding that long lost skirt pattern, and making that impossible dart.

Robert Huston

Margaret Englehart

Dr. Burton Hogle

Thelma Birt

T. Herman Dooley . . . for teaching us to sing "o" instead of "ooo," softening our reeds and cleaning our valves, and resounding the fight song through the halls on Friday.

Robert C. Huston . . . for your confidence in the Driver's Ed. students, getting the buses for our boys to ride to the games, and keeping us well stocked with referees.

George H. Houck . . . for making sure the stadium gets a new coat of paint, replacing the broken earphones in the language lab, and not seeming to mind a bit.

Robert Brown . . . making the initial cut in our pet frogs, and accepting our bug collections three days late.

Dr. Berton Hogle . . . for taping that sprained ankle, telling us we're strong enough to play Friday night, and letting us know you're on our side.

T. Herman Dooley

George Houck

Spirit of Troy

Spirit walks the halls of Troy . . . hides in the walls of the lobby . . . jumps, screams and is worried at the games . . . joins the Block T and tries out for the play . . . sells mums for homecoming and climbs the goal post . . . has a great time being young and enthusiastic wherever the place . . . Spirit is Troy.

Spirit of Troy

Spirit sits in the classrooms . . . listens intently and runs for lunch . . . discusses grades in the Dayton Youth Forum and worries about that term paper due Friday . . . goes to the library during study halls and develops abstract taste in art . . . asks a question about a theorem and goes to the clinic with a headache . . . Spirit of Troy is always found . . .

ACADEMICS

Superintendent of Troy Public Schools,
Glenn B. Jeffers.

Mr. Jeffers and Mr. Ward prepare for a board meeting.

Assistant Superintendent, George H. Houck.

Director of Elementary Education, M. L.
Routson.

Administration Devotes Much Time To Making Vital THS Decisions.

Although at one time he wanted to be a physician, Charles Secoy is happy in his present work as Principal of the High School and Supervisor of Secondary Education.

All experiences involving pupils are interesting to Lee Mitchell, who besides being Dean of Boys teaches electricity and advises the Industrial Arts club.

Howard Hoffman, Assistant Principal and Head of the Mathematics Department.

Thelma Thompson, Dean of Girls, and also a member of the guidance staff, recently received her Masters in Education from Wittenburg. She is advisor to J-Teens and the Student Council.

Completing the guidance staff are: Joseph Todd, Troy school psychologist; James Welbaum, Sophomore guidance, head basketball coach, who devotes spare time to sports and family; Lawrence Gorrell, Guidance Coordinator for High School and Van Cleve, who has traveled in the U.S., Canada, and Europe; Patricia Hartle, Freshman guidance, F.T.A. advisor, who is often seen bicycling or knitting.

Seated: Vernon Knuckles, general XII, journalism, Advisor: Senior Boys, "Big T", annual; Thelma Secoy, general XI, Advisor: F.N.A., Junior class; Frank Prouty, Director of Summer School, Visual Education, and English, academic and A. P. XII, Advisor: Chess, Projection, National Honor Society; Judith Boyd, academic and general X, Advisor: Block T, Club 66; Standing: Caren Earl, general IX and X, reading, Advisor:

Club 66; Inex Curry, academic and A. P. X, Advisor: Creative Writing; Richard Rosen, academic and A. P. XI, Advisor: Junior class; Eileen Murray, general and academic IX, speech, Advisor: Dramatics, Speech Contests; Edna Floyd, academic and A. P. IX; Jerry Hart, general IX and academic XI, Advisor: Key Club, Coach: freshman basketball.

Communication Skills Form Basis For Living In World.

Through four different levels of study, Troy's English Department strives to prepare all students to take their place in the world. The regular and general groups learn basic reading and writing skills, with plenty of essential grammar, while the academic and advanced placement students do more detailed writing and reading about the great literature and ideas of the world.

As electives, there are journalism and speech, the mastery of which plays an important part in today's world of communication.

New developments this year were the extension of a literary magazine to the advanced sophomore class, and the use of Encyclopedia Britannica films on the humanities in many classes.

Miss Floyd! I'll never remember that!

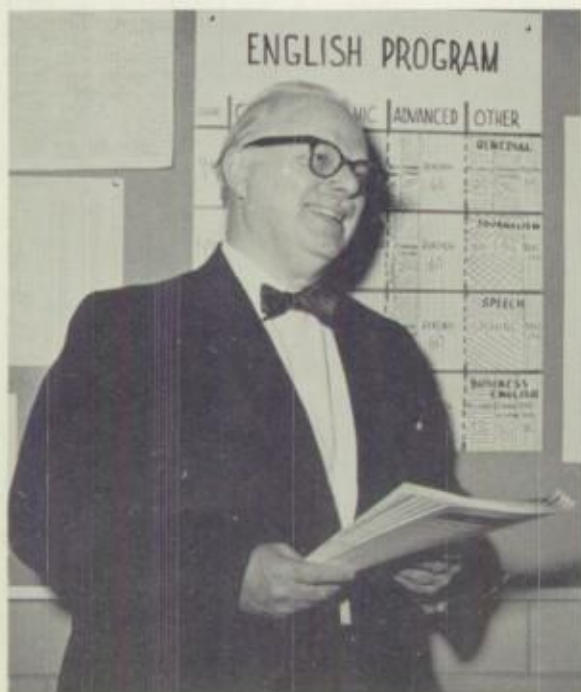

Miss Boyd quotes Shakespeare?

Mr. Rosen, did I do that?

That's a good question, Mr. Knuckles.

Mr. Prouty, head of the English Department.

Science And Math Use New Approaches, Based On Understanding

Mr. Brown wonders if they'll ever wake up.

Dale Vesper, Head of the Science Department

NO! NO! THAT'S ACID!

Dale Vesper, science department head, elementary analysis, academic and general physics, introduction to science, Advisor: Concessions, Electronics, senior class; Robert Brown, academic biology; Thomas Cukr, general biology, Coach: 7th grade football; John Price, general science, introduction to science. Coach: head football; James Beisner, academic and general chemistry; Edward Ashworth, general science; William Farrell, general chemistry, algebra I; Norvin Smith, academic biology, physiology, psychology, Coach: track, cross country.

Math and science surely rate an important place in the rapidly advancing world. To keep up with the expansion the math and science departments continue to offer the most modern approaches to the subjects.

The biology classes this year began using a course of study drawn up by the Biological Sciences Study Committee. The basis of this is the emphasis upon understanding of the basic principles and ideas rather than mere memorization of facts.

In chemistry lab, the students learned to use smaller quantities of substances. Freshman science continued giving an all-over approach to all sciences, while physics was taught by the same modern methods that have been used.

In the math department, the UICSM went into its third year. Next year, those students who complete all four years will have an excellent background for college math.

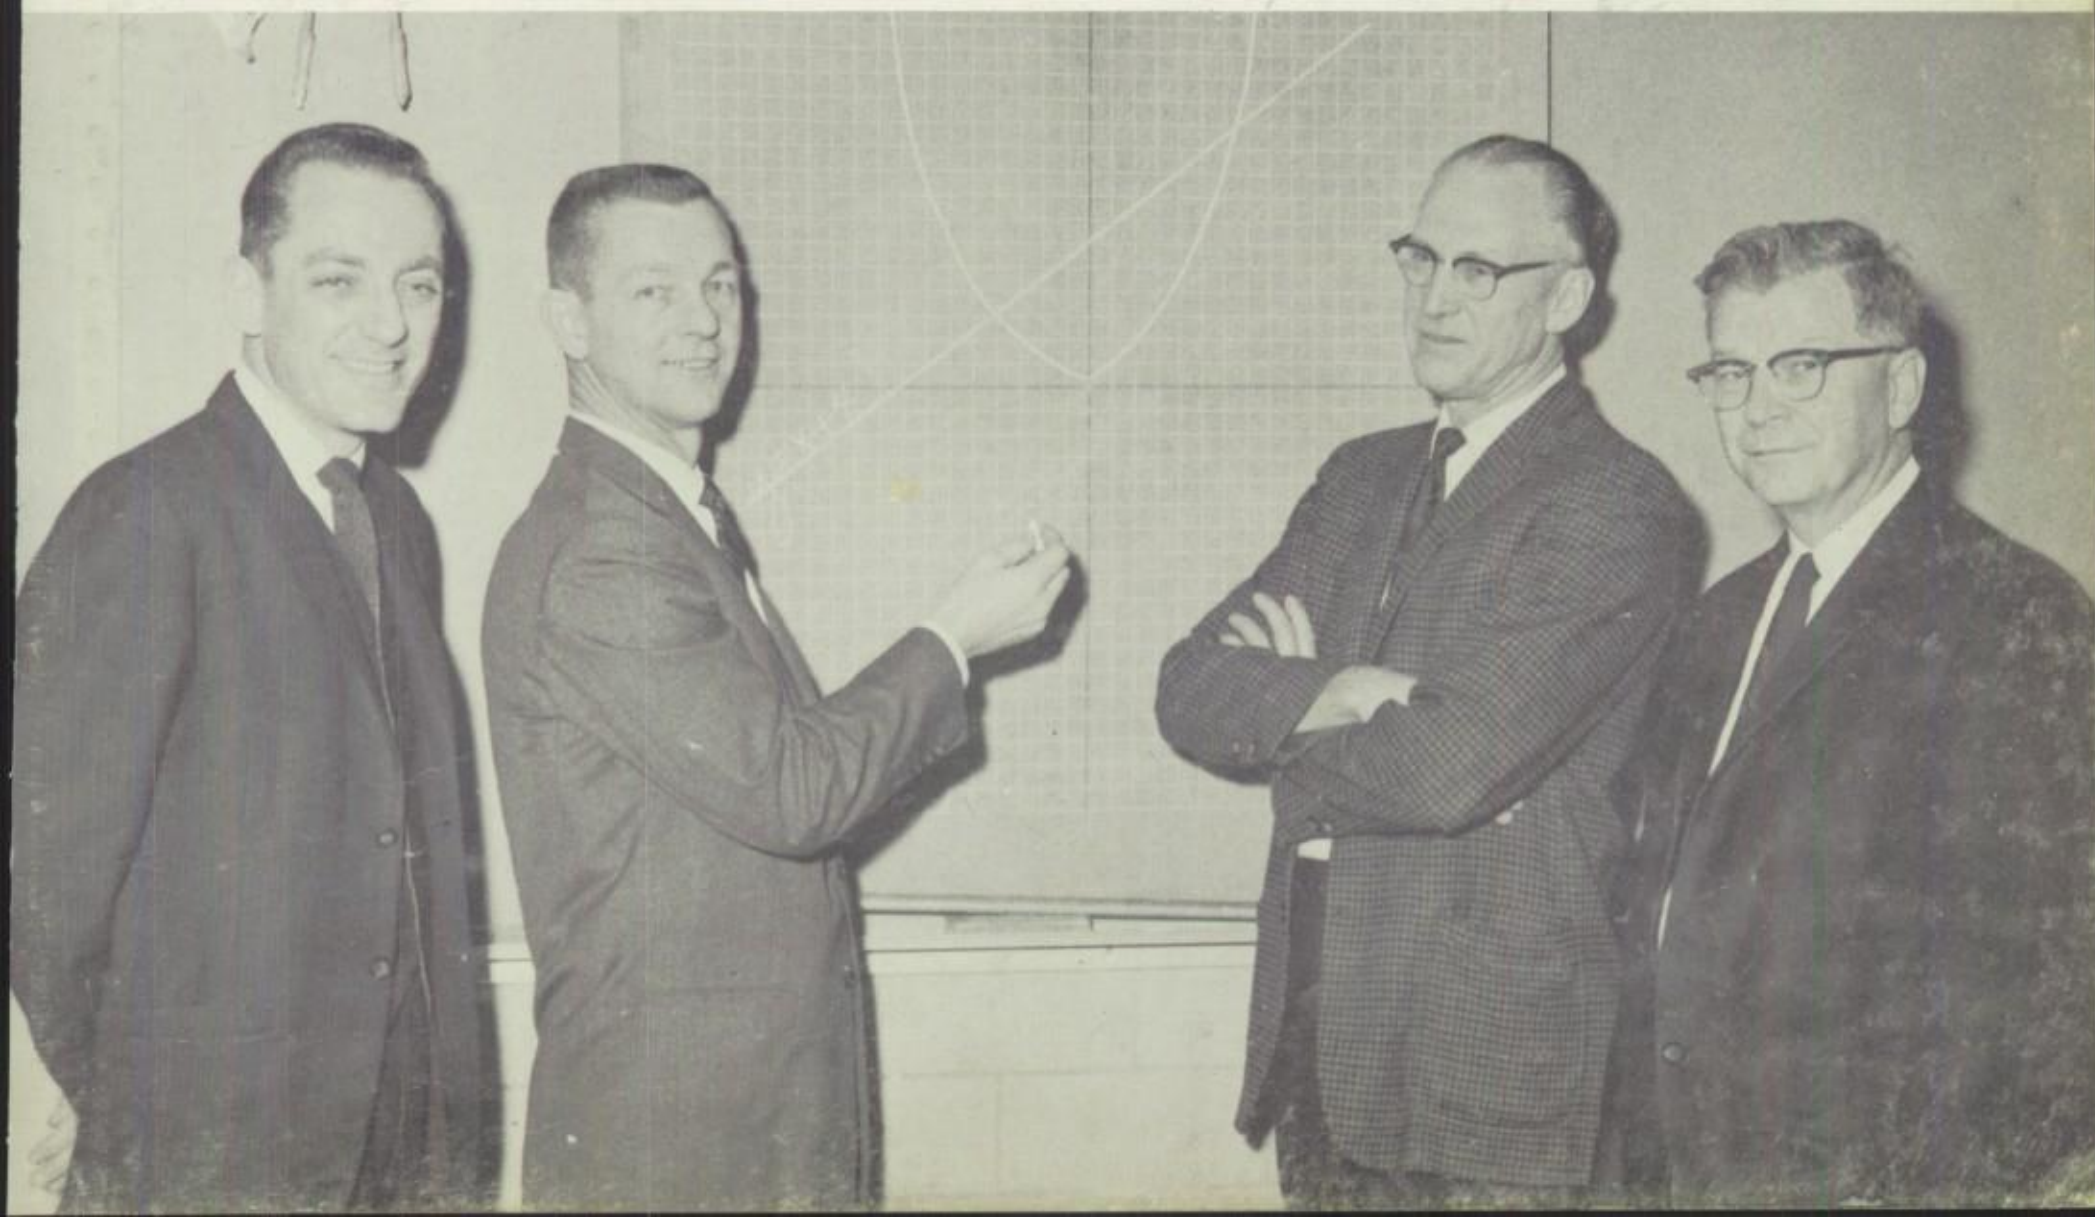

Eugene Epperson, math I and II, algebra II; James Hoffman, math I, II and III, algebra II; E. M. Raveling, general math, shop math; Charles Wiley, algebra I, geometry.

Mr. Epperson explains square . . . root.

Someone seems to have taken Mr. Raveling's chalk.

Carlton Kazmaier, American history, Advisor: Junior class; Coach: Golf; Ruth Burk, American government, Advisor: Senior class, S.O.S., World Affairs; Bruce Oliver, American and world history, Advisor: Sophomore boys, Student Council; Julius Sizemore (first semester), American government, world history, Advisor: Senior boys; Robert Conard, sociology, economics, driver's education, American history, Coach: football.

Mr. Conard, "To err is human, Caroline."

Two New Courses Prompt Added Social Studies Interest.

The creation of two courses and the extension of two compulsory courses highlighted the school year in Social Studies. Sociology and economics, offered to seniors for one semester each, brought new understanding of the social problems and financial methods of the world's people. In American history and American government, academic courses were begun, to be weighted in the future. These two were distinguished by advanced textbooks and heated discussions.

Aren't you stretching the truth Mr. Kazmaier?

President DeGaulle's latest move creates amusement in Mrs. Hamilton's French II class. Has he outlawed French in America?

"Despiertense!" An early morning Spanish class is awakened by Mr. Jensen's curt command.

The Sounds Of Many Lands Echo From The Language Department.

Our foreign language department offers courses in French, Spanish, and Latin. To further the study of these languages our high school has a well-equipped language lab, consisting of tapes, separate booths, earphones, and microphones. In the first year the fundamentals are taught while in the second, a deeper more concentrated study is attempted including learning extensive verb tenses and reading a book.

Seated: C. W. Jensen, Spanish I, II, and III, Advisor: Booster Club, Senior Class. Standing: Gladys Helton, Latin I and II;

Virginia Hamilton, French I and II, Advisor: Junior Class; Zelpha Bowers, Spanish I, French I.

Mrs. Fair shows her Home Ec. students how to make some low calorie tarts.

Home Nursing in action: No unattended coryza here!

"What happened to patterns for dresses with bustles?"

Seated: Lois C. Smith, Home Economics II, Advisor: F.H.A., Senior Class; Grace Fair, Home Economics II, Special Home Economics, Advisor: F.H.A. Standing: Thelma Birt, Department Head, Home Economics III, IV, Advisor: F.H.A.

Girls Learn Skills Of Cooking, Sewing And Home Management Needed For The Future.

The delicious smells wafting from the Home Economics ovens fill one end of the upper halls and are bound to bring hunger pangs; however, they do compensate for the unpleasant odors coming from the chemistry lab at the other end of the hall.

This year the Home Economics Department presented a style show held May 27th featuring the various talents of the girls taking Home Economics with the spring, summer, and fall fashions.

Job Opportunities Open For Those Taking Business Courses.

Bookkeepers learn to embezzle — er, balance records in Business class.

Mrs. Lawrence Gorrell, Clerical Practice I, Record Keeping, Typing, Advisor: F.B.W.; Margaret Englehart, Business 10, 11, 12, Advisor: F.B.W.; Elizabeth L. Blackburn, Business English 12, Secretarial Practice I, Typing, Advisor: F.B.W., Boosters Club; Carol Deeter, General Business 10, Typing, Secretarial Practice II, Advisor: F.B.W., Block "T".

Of course there will always be paper doll cutters; these two are Susie Wilson and Jayne Black.

The rumble of typewriters is a sure way of recognizing the Business Education department. Besides typing there are many other courses offered such as business English, secretarial practice, stenography, and shorthand.

Many of the students taking secretarial, practice work in the school office as secretaries. They are kept fairly busy taking messages and running errands.

Trying to achieve a good score in the five-minute timings, and taking dictations are all a part of a day's work in the school business world.

Five minute typings would be easier if there were an eraser key.

Seated: E. C. Baden, Department Head, supervisor of Adult Education, Industrial Arts. Standing: Theodore Bascombe, Mechanical Drawings, Graphic Arts, Shop I; Raymond Cheney, Woodworking, Coach: Wrestling; William Woolery, Industrial Arts.

Mr. Woolery: "When the vise is tightened on the hand, the bones begin . . ."

Boys Fill Displays With Beautiful And Useful Objects, Made With Their Own Hands.

Mr. Bascombe pushes the ink-splatter button, (Those four don't expect a thing!)

"Who blackened these goggles ? ? ?"

"Give me that ball this minute or I'll kick you!"

Mr. Mumford's Health class learns the latest first aid methods.

Young Minds And Bodies Strengthened By Health And Gym Courses.

Seated: Hildred Byrkett, Freshman Health and Physical Education, Advisor: G.A.A., Intramurals, Coach: Interscholastics; Barbara Heiffner, Sophomore Health and Physical Education, Advisor: Cheerleaders, G.A.A., Intramurals, Coach: Interscholastics. Standing: Douglas Mumford, Freshman Health and Physical Education, Coach: Football assistant, Basketball assistant, Track assistant; Gerald Lorentz, Sophomore Health and Physical Education, Coach: Tennis.

"You say you cut the strings?"

Robert C. Huston, Athletic Director, Supervisor of Health and Physical Education, Drivers Education, Advisor: Varsity "T"; James E. Conard, Drivers Education, Geography, American Government, Coach: Wrestling, Football assistant.

Helen Sinks, Head Librarian, and Jeanette Updike, Assistant Librarian, make plans for National Library Week.

A conspiracy to perform some vile deed (such as put peanut shells in the plants!), is being plotted between the middle tables.

Drivers Ed. For Future

Motorists; Library For Future People.

John Bosse and Ed Oxley work on inevitable term papers.

The Library is a place for study, reference or just quiet reading.

Delmar M. Preston, Art I, III, IV, Advisor: Arts and Crafts; J. Morris Bailey, Crafts, Advisor: Arts and Crafts, Dramatics.

Captain Kanga-Preston's Play School in action.

Mr. West Ends Long Memorable Career; Two Art Teachers New To Troy High.

In the Art Department, the familiar faces of Mr. Clark and Mr. Rogers were replaced by two new colorful teachers. Mr. Delmar Preston, coming here from Huntington, West Virginia, did equally well with the paint brush and on the ball diamond, being baseball coach also. Mr. J. Morris Bailey, who taught in the elementary last year, took over the junior high art and high school crafts, as well as revolutionizing the dramatics department.

However, in the Music Department, Mr. Charles West ends his thirty-four years of teaching, twenty of them at Troy. He received his Bachelors' at Miami, his Masters' at Ohio State, and studied further at the University of Pennsylvania and Christiansen Choir School. In his third year here he began the A Cappella Choir, followed in six years by the now historical Trojanaires, with whom he toured Canada and the United States on nine summer singing trips. His last direction of the A Cappella Choir at Commencement brought tears of nostalgia to the eyes of many.

Seated: Charles E. West, Head of Music Department for Troy Schools, A Cappella Choir; Anna Williams, assistant orchestra director; John Slonaker, assistant band director. Standing: T. Herman Dooley, Band, Sophomore Choir, Freshman Chorus; John Wildman, orchestra director.

Mr. West recalls the many events, great and small, of his long musical career; funny, all of them seem happy.

Maestro in action in A Cappella Choir.

Ruth Klopfenstein no doubt receives much personal satisfaction from her work in Special Education.

*Special Education, Cafeteria, Nurse, Secretaries, And
Custodians Keep The School
Running Smoothly Behind The Scenes.*

Cafeteria Workers. Seated: J. Keifer, H. Olwine, M. Supinger, E. Stephens, C. Lawrie, B. Gnodle, I. Reed, E. Higgins. Standing: C. Kiser, A. Catey, B. Lavy, M. Fellers, G. Bristley, E. Coleman, N. Rhynard, V. Wion, E. Fenner, L. Buirley, E. Funderburg. Back: J. Longendelpher, V. Slacum, J. Stager.

Troy High and Van Cleve students bring their ailments to Nurse Pauline Mallinson for a tongue depressor, a soft couch, and a soothing word.

Mrs. Janice Laabs, Secretary; Mrs. Gene Moore, Treasurer, Clerk; Mrs. Mildred Paul, Secretary to the Principal; Mrs. Shirley Stone, Secretary.

Seated: Mary E. Winner, Clerk of the Board.
Standing: Althea Shuff, Secretary; Frances Hormell, Secretary to the Superintendent.

Custodians. Seated: D. Gillam, S. Wesco, W. Robbins. Standing: H. Seaman, E. Althoff, W. Wintrow, H. Hauenstein. Missing: G. Gurlies.

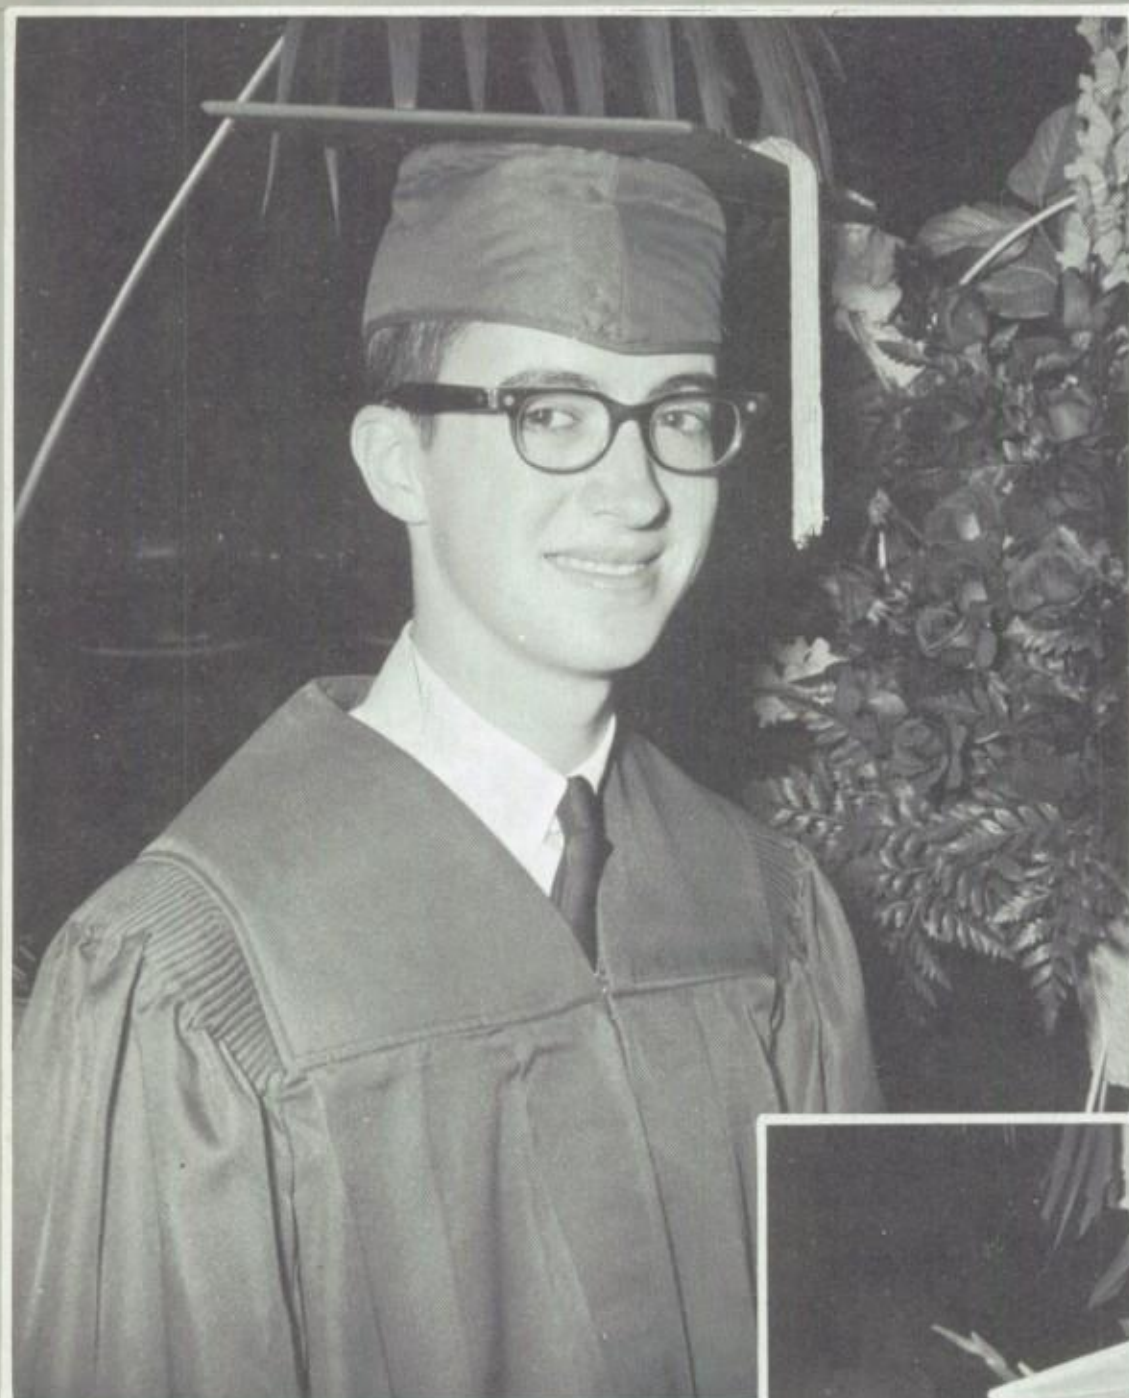

Spirit of Troy

Spirit has seniority at Troy . . . struts down the hall and attends a mock political convention . . . takes the SAT and tries out for The Diary of Anne Frank . . . counts the days and passes out hundreds of pictures . . . switches at midterm from sociology to psychology and finds the Senior Bench nothing special . . . finally, but too soon, walks up those steps and switches that tassel . . . Spirit of Troy is always found . . .

Spirit of Troy

Spirit is a joiner and doer at Troy . . . winds the "fishing reel" in marching band and is tapped for the National Honor Society . . . empties bed pans as a Dettmer Doll and collects budget every Monday . . . attend the JCOWA Mock U. N. as an African and brings canned food for the Club 66 Christmas Project . . . proudly wears a Varsity "T" jacket and nimbly moves scenery in the Stage Crew . . . Spirit of Troy is always found . . .

The World Affairs Club, newly formed last year, this January, became affiliated with the Junior Council on World Affairs in Dayton. The first event was the Model General Assembly at Meadowdale High School. Troy's JCOWA represented three African countries of Dahomey, Gabon, and Burundi at the event which closely paralleled the real U.N. Club president, Karen Putnam, and advisor, Mrs. Burk, traveled to Washington and New York on a Study Tour. The last event of the year was the Smorgasbord Recognition Dinner in May.

Bill: "... Lovely!!"

Jim Marshall, our valiant 31-year-old graduating Senior, is given a special gift and a standing ovation.

The hero of "Prouty at the Bat" is consoled after he has struck out.

Schedule Tough Year Outstanding.

Troy High School has a tradition of holding prowess on the area gridirons. This year's squad, under Coaches Price, Jim and Bob Conard, Comer, and Mumford was certainly no exception.

As the league opened the Trojans held a 1-1-1 slate against a trio of tough opponents. Troy easily rolled over Fairborn and won a come-from-behind thriller from the arch rival Piqua Indians. After a heartbreaking loss to the always tough Xenia bucaners, the Trojans got back on the winning trail by trouncing Greenville, Sidney Yellowjackets, and set the stage for the showdown with the Dragons of Fairmont West.

The Trojans gave the state-ranked Dragons the battle of their lives. After a scoreless first half, Fairmont managed to push over two touchdowns late in the game to master the inspired warriors. The Trojans completed what must be considered a most triumphant season by soundly rolling over the Miamisburg Vikings to finish second in the tight Miami Valley League race!

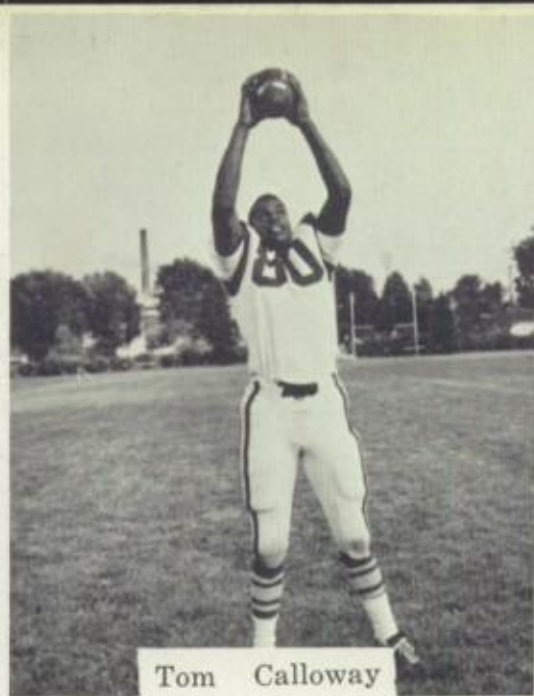

Trojan Ted Holcomb (38) goes all the way against Xenia on an 80-yard reverse.

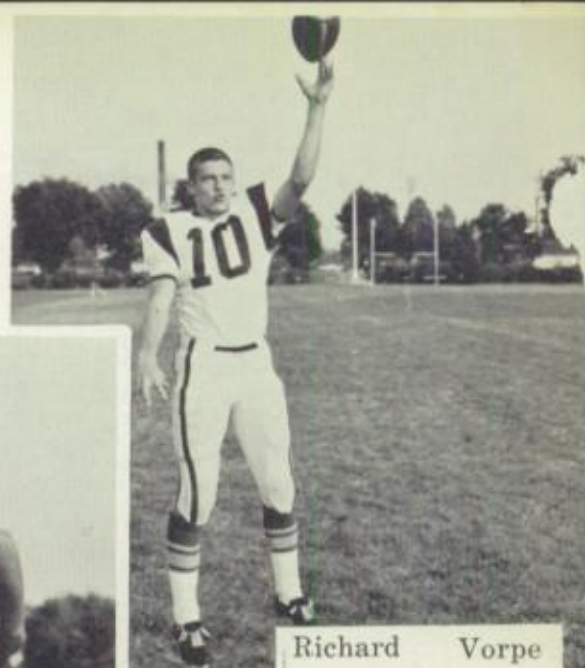

Chaminade runner (38) meets his match (big Trojan line men 70 and 80 prepare to crush him).

Spirit Behind The Trojans

Homecoming substitutes—Buck McConnell and Roger Rowe:
“R-A-T-T-F-I-N-K . . .”

Come on, Trojans! Louder! TR-OY! The frenzied screams from the stands echo again and again as the six red-clad figures whip the crowd into a whirlwind of excitement through catchy precision movements. From football season through basketball season, the results of long hours of difficult repetitious practice are shown in the faultless and successful efforts of the cheerleaders. Providing vital encouragement for the playing boys, Seniors Janet Fair, Suzy May, and Susie Wilson, were joined this year by Juniors Judy Garwood, Bev Ross, and Debbie Shuler in leading the cheers of the Block “T” and the fans. With Miss Heiffner in advisory position, these cheerleaders keep the boys on the field or floor sure that someone is behind them, cheering them on to glorious victory or graceful defeat.

Over The Levy And Through The Park. . .The Cross Country Squad Races.

Under the usual capable coaching of Norvin Smith, this year's Cross Country team once again met the standards of the great teams of the past. Running the grueling two-mile course was no easy job, but the boys led by Seniors Dave Strominger and Jimmy Carr, and Junior Randy Flory, were equal to the task.

Spirit of Troy

Spirit is a merchant of Troy . . . is known as the "friendly drug-gist" and holds a Dog-Days Sale . . . gives green stamps and cleans windshields as a service . . . sells the best meat in town and keeps heads trimmed and set . . . has the latest fashions and carries those longed-for engagement rings . . . provides snacks for hungry kids and stocks a left-handed plumbing wrench . . . Spirit of Troy is always found . . .

Makes You Wonder, Doesn't It?

A Farewell . . .

Thus the school year of 1963-1964 has departed forever. The big events are recorded here, but the little happenings are within each individual person who had some part in the passing of this year. It is gone and cannot be returned to . . . four classes have each climbed up a step, teachers have found a few more gray hairs, the building itself has settled an inch more in its foundation . . . yet memories can be relied upon to bring back those smiles and tears for many years to come. To the class of 1964 the step upward is especially large, into a whole new world with no place for high school. Troy High School, though, will always have a place in the mind and heart of every graduate and will not be forgotten. Farewell for now but not forever.
